YELLOWSTONE
VACATIONS

Recreate Responsibly

We're committed to keeping Montana's outdoor spaces, communities, residents, and visitors safe. As you enjoy all the area has to offer, please join us in following these guidelines for responsible recreation.

Know Before You Go

Before arriving, check the status of the place you'd like to visit. It's good to have a backup plan if your destination is closed or crowded. Consider adjusting the time of day you plan to explore. By arriving early, you may experience shorter lines and reduced crowds for a more enjoyable experience!

Practice Physical Distancing

Indoors or outdoors, be prepared to encounter others with different social distancing comfort levels. If you can, give other people as much space as possible. On trails, move over to let stock (horses and mules) pass, yield to other hikers, and be respectful of other users. If you know you'll be in an area with other people, have a mask at the ready. Keep your group small and if you are sick (have a cough, cold, fever, etc.) or have been in contact with individuals who have been sick, stay home and plan to visit when you're well.

Plan Ahead

Check our local regulations for the latest safety measures. Facilities might be closed, so consider packing a lunch and bring essentials like extra water, food/snacks, bug spray, and a first aid kit. In Montana, both weather and terrain can change quickly. We recommend packing clothing layers to add or remove as weather changes.

Play It Safe

Have fun, but know your limits. Take it slow and choose lower-risk activities to reduce the strain on search and rescue operations and health care resources. Stay hydrated; West Yellowstone sits at an elevation of 6,666, and altitude sickness can be very dangerous. Remember that Montana is home to bears, mountain goats, mountain lions, elk, deer, and more. If you plan to spend time outside, be prepared to have an encounter with our abundant wildlife. Give wildlife their space, do not approach them, and do not feed them. If you plan to hike, be sure to go with a friend, make noise on the trail (talking or clapping), carry bear spray, and know how to use it.

Explore Locally

Our area is full of local parks, trails, and public spaces. Enjoy them while being mindful of your impact on the surrounding communities. Check in with local Chambers or Visitor Information Centers to pick up travel guides and maps, as well as get suggestions for things to do, places to go, and insider tips.

Leave No Trace

Pack your garbage out with you and clean up properly. When recreating on public lands, be sure to take care of them by staying on trails. If you plan to camp while you're here, be sure to do so in an existing campsite or pick a site where vegetation is absent. It's important to respect public lands and waters, as well as Native and local communities.

Be Bear Aware

Grizzly and black bears are active from early spring through late fall in the Yellowstone area. We urge everyone to be alert and safe. The following are recommendations for recreating safely in bear country:

- Carry and know how to use bear spray for emergencies.
- Stay on trails or rural roads.
- Make your presence known by talking, singing, carrying a bell, or other means, especially when near streams or in thick forest where visibility is low.

- Camp away from trails and areas where you see grizzly signs.
- Keep a clean camp at all times.
- Keep tents and sleeping bags free of odors.
- Hang all food, trash, and other odorous items well away from camp and at least 10' above ground and 4' from any vertical support, or store in a bear-proof container.
- Stay 100 yards or more away and DO NOT FEED wildlife.

Watching Wildlife

Yellowstone National Park has the largest concentration of wildlife in the lower 48 states. In springtime, Yellowstone's babes are out in force, offering incredible photo opportunities. Small groups of bison are on the move along roadways and rivers back into Yellowstone from their nursery areas.

Elk can be found along the rivers and in wet meadows. Pregnant cows should be dropping calves soon, if not already. Watch along the edges of the pines in the early evening for any new calves.

This is the best time of year to spot bears feeding in the lower altitudes in Yellowstone before they head back to upper elevations and cooler forested areas for the summer months. Some of the best grizzly sightings have been along the Lamar Valley Road and across the Yellowstone River throughout the Hayden Valley.

Fall is the time to see the unusual – a favorite bird sitting on a still pond, a young moose meandering along a stream, or a group of playful otters jumping on and off a log on the banks of the Yellowstone River.

One of Yellowstone's most famous events is the annual elk rut or mating season (mid-late September). Older bulls begin to hang around the edges of the cowherd and are constantly acting out to drive off other bulls and retain dominance. Watch for the large bulls in the Canyon, Gibbon Meadow, and Mammoth Hot Springs areas.

The big Madison River bull elk really work their harems along the Madison River meadows. They demonstrate their dominance by tearing up the ground and small bushes, even staging mock battles. Bulls also attract females and signal dominance with bugling, long sustained bugles that end with low, guttural thumping. During the fall, Yellowstone valleys echo with the eerie sound of bulls challenging each other by bugling. Other animals to keep an eye out for include marmots, mule deer, wolves, moose, badgers, otters, foxes, and coyotes.

Birding

Over 311 species of birds have been documented in Yellowstone. Arm yourself with binoculars, a Yellowstone Bird Field Checklist, a camera with a good zoom function, and a well-illustrated guide, and you are ready to go birding.

Nesting trumpeter swans, soras, herons, and common snipe can all be seen from the turnouts along the river. Migratory birds can be seen including Savannah sparrows, Ruby-crowned Kinglets, Yellow-rumped Warblers, and mountain bluebirds. Ravens are also fun to watch just for their mischievous antics.

Near Fishing Bridge, look for White Pelicans and both Barrow's and Common Goldeneye, as well as Bald Eagles and Osprey. Watch for Sandhill Cranes in the Fountain Flats area. If you are lucky enough to make it to Beartooth Pass (on the Beartooth Scenic Highway), watch for Peregrine Falcons and Golden Eagles, as well as migrant summer visitors like American Pipits and Black Rosy-finches.

Outside of the Park, the area west of Yellowstone also has great birding and wildlife viewings, especially in the spring and fall. Look at the West of Yellowstone map on page 11.

Grizzly & Wolf Discovery Center Guaranteed Wildlife Sightings!

The Grizzly & Wolf Discovery Center is an AZA-accredited, Not-for-Profit wildlife park and educational facility. Visitors are offered a unique chance to safely experience the world of grizzly bears, gray wolves, river otters, raptors, and more. All the animals at the Center are unable to survive in the wild and serve as ambassadors for their wild counterparts. The center is open 365 days a year.

The center's Keeper Kids program is designed for kids ages 5-12. This unique, hands-on, 30-minute program teaches kids about grizzly bear eating habits. They will accompany a naturalist and animal staff member into the bear habitat to hide food for the bears. After the food is hidden, they can see first-hand how bears use their sense of smell to search out the hidden food. This first-come first-serve activity is offered twice a day in the summer. Space is strictly limited to 30 kids per session. Sign up by the admissions counter no later than 15 minutes before the program starts on the day that you wish to take part. There is a $5 participation fee; all other programs are free with the price of admission.

Gone Fishin'

Forbes Magazine named West Yellowstone one of America's "Top Ten Fishing Towns" for unparalleled year-round fishing. Top blue-ribbon trout streams surround West Yellowstone: the Madison, Gallatin, Yellowstone, and the Henry's Fork of the Snake. The upper Madison, the Firehole, and the Gibbon Rivers are just minutes away in Yellowstone. Unbeatable float and deep-water fishing abound on Hebgen Lake and Earthquake Lake, Henry's Lake, and Island Park Reservoir.

Hebgen Lake, located northwest of town, is approximately fifteen miles long and four miles wide. The lake is known as one of Montana's premier stillwater and dry fly-fishing fisheries. Several marinas offer docks as well as convenient boating (including rentals) and fishing supplies.

Many of the fly fishing shops in West Yellowstone offer packages for fishermen of all levels, complete with equipment and instruction. Take a day and enjoy the waters of Montana with an experienced guide and make it a trip to remember. Be careful – you may become hooked for life.

Float trips are also a fun and exciting way to experience the waters near West Yellowstone. The spectacular views of the surrounding area and wildlife are truly a memorable experience for novice or advanced anglers alike. Most local shops offer a wide variety of fishing experiences, including full-day trips and half-day trips, and even some evening guided trips.

Most waters in Yellowstone Park are open for fishing from late May to early November. A valid Yellowstone National Park fishing license is required for all anglers over 12 years of age.

Make sure to obtain a regulations book, as it contains specific information about restrictions, maps, and locations. Regulations are often complex concerning fishing seasons, temporary and/or permanent area closures, tackle restrictions, and species-specific number and size limits. The Madison River, both inside and outside Yellowstone Park, is at its prime, along with the Gibbon and Firehole rivers inside the park. You can often find some solitary fishing and match the hatch fishing. Depending on weather conditions you may see Pale Morning Duns, Blue-Winged Olives, or two species of caddis.

Fishing isn't only a summer excursion. Fly fishermen can be seen wading waist-deep in the icy waters of the Gallatin and Madison Rivers, and ice fishing has become a popular winter experience. Hebgen Lake is becoming an ice fishing destination during the winter months, producing some fine-sized rainbow and brown trout.

Terra Nova Cabins represents the best in western hospitality and comfort, wrapped in a contemporary expression that will inspire your own unique adventures.

Fun on the Water

Among the most perfect ways to start a West Yellowstone vacation day may be kayaking or canoeing out in the early morning light with the mist still rising from the waters of Hebgen or Quake Lake. An afternoon of exploring brings an awesome awareness of the dynamic forces that formed the Madison River Canyon. On a hot day, can anything bring more family fun than tubing or skiing on the lake?

Boating & Fishing

Hebgen Lake is Montana's premiere still water fishing lake. Hebgen Lake is Montana's premiere still water fishing lake with rainbow, brown, and cutthroat trout averaging 15-20 inches. Ice moves off in April, and by July the water warms for swimming. July through September is the best time for water sports. Hebgen accommodates both large and small boats, personal watercraft, kayaks, canoes, paddleboats, and sailboats. Watch the shores for wildlife sightings of otters, beavers, foxes, wolves, deer, moose, elk, bear, big-horn sheep, and mountain goats. Ospreys, bald and golden eagles, hawks, herons, pelicans, swans, and many varieties of waterfowl make this a great birding location.

At six miles long and over 180 feet deep, Quake Lake and the submerged trees within it offer great fishing for brown and rainbow trout. A boat ramp offers access for small motorboats, canoes, or kayaks.

Whitewater Rafting

Explore the Gallatin or Yellowstone Rivers with a whitewater rafting company. Tours are available for all experience levels, from beginner to advanced.

Dip a Paddle

Get a close-up view of the water with a canoe, kayak, or paddleboard adventure. Hire a guide or rent equipment and head out on your own. Popular locations include Yellowstone Lake in Yellowstone National Park and Hebgen Lake just north of West Yellowstone.

Our Favorite Trails

Rendezvous Trails

Located at the southwest corner of town, the trail system covers more than 35 km of varied terrain from gently rolling hills to more challenging climbs, descents, and turns. The view is always scenic, whether winding through tall stands of lodgepole pine or open meadows embraced by nearby Lionhead Mountain. Trail passes are required between November 1 and March 31.

Boundary Trail

The Boundary Ski and Snowshoe Trail offers 7.9km of trails that parallel Yellowstone Park's western border. It is also one of the few pet-friendly trails in Montana. This is also a no-fee trail, perfect for families and kids. This easy trail is groomed to accommodate classic cross-country skiers and snowshoers alike.

Riverside Trail

The Riverside Trail crosses very easy terrain. New skiers can try out the sport and ski alongside impressive views inside Yellowstone National Park. Bison, elk, and moose frequent the river area and sometimes use the packed trail.

The area surrounding West Yellowstone offers some of the best cross-country skiing in Yellowstone Country. The Rendezvous Ski Trails at the edge of town, the Riverside Trail leaving from West Yellowstone, and 40 miles of ski trails in the Old Faithful area offer great scenery for skiers of all abilities. The Boundary Trail, which follows the western edge of Yellowstone, is free and dog-friendly. There are also daily snowcoach tours leaving from West Yellowstone that offer cross-country skier drop-offs and pick-ups as part of the tour.

Ski event season kicks off Thanksgiving week with the annual Yellowstone Ski Festival. It continues with biathlons and the Taste of the Trails and culminates with the Rendezvous Ski Race.

The Nordic ski season around West Yellowstone can last into late spring, depending on snow conditions. In the mornings, locals like to go North of town to ski on Hebgen Lake for an experience we call Crust Cruising. Skiers can literally ski anywhere by staying on top of the hard crust that has formed over the snow. Other popular areas include Big Horn Pass, Fawn Pass, and the meadows near the Rendezvous Ski trails.

Snowmobiling

Our Favorite Trails

Two Top Trail

West Yellowstone's most famous trail has a variety of terrain and 2,000-foot elevation gain. The trail is groomed and powder fields abound. On clear days, the surrounding mountain ranges come into view, including the Teton's, Centennial Mountains, Lionhead, and Yellowstone National Park. On the mountain top, constant driven winds produce ghostly ice patterns on the trees creating the famous "snow ghosts."

Lionhead Trail

More experienced riders can access extra off-trail riding from the Two Top or Lionhead Trail. Lionhead follows the Continental Divide, climbing through switchbacks to over 10,000 feet. There are numerous bowls with drop-offs and overhanging cliffs.

Big Sky Trail

The Big Sky Trail provides some of the best backcountry snowmobiling in Montana. This challenging 110-mile trail begins just north of West Yellowstone. While the first portion is groomed, the trail quickly turns into an ungroomed powder experience. This area has open bowls, deep fields of snow, and outstanding hill climbing opportunities.

South Plateau Trail

The South Plateau Trail runs along the boundary of Yellowstone. You can ride this trail out and back or link it up with one of the other trails to make a great loop ride. It provides great views of the area's mountains, following creeks and rivers away from the crowds.

The Madison Arm Loop

The Madison Arm Loop, located north and west of town, is 20 miles in length. The trail is well maintained and usually provides great wildlife viewing opportunities.

Horse Butte Loop

Another good trail for beginners, this 20-mile trail travels the shores of Hebgen Lake.

West Yellowstone is undoubtedly a snowmobiler's paradise. With more than 143 inches of snow annually and 400 miles of trails through breathtaking scenery, it continues to top the list of favorite sledding destinations. The trail system begins right in town, where snowmobilers share city streets with motorists, and onto trails in the Custer Gallatin, Beaverhead, and Targhee National forests. Groomed trails provide access to off-trail powder meadows and more advanced backcountry riding. Local businesses provide snowmobile and clothing rentals on a daily or multi-day basis. Snowmobile rentals range from two-up easy riding and trail models to high-powered sleds adapted for mountain and backcountry riding. Additional equipment, including avalanche beacons and shovels for backcountry riding, can also be rented. National Forest guide service is also available for snowmobilers new to the area who want to learn more about the trail system.

For more detailed trail information, visit destinationyellowstone.com or stop at the Visitor Information Center for a map.

Reminder: Snowmobiles operating on groomed trails must display a permit decal.

Biking Yellowstone Park

Shortly after Yellowstone Park closes to over-snow traffic, some of the roads are open for Cycle-Only Days. Only bikes (no public vehicles) are allowed on roads and there is no admission fee when riding from the West Yellowstone entrance to Mammoth as conditions allow. There are no services available; riders must pack in/pack out all supplies. Even after Yellowstone's roads open to motorized traffic, the cycling in the Park is excellent. Most of the roads in Yellowstone have a wide enough shoulder to provide safe riding. Be aware of motorized vehicles, as visitors can stop unexpectedly for wildlife!

In the fall, the West Yellowstone Old Faithful Cycle Tour is a terrific way to experience Yellowstone National Park. Registration opens in June and is limited.

Mountain Biking

The Rendezvous Ski Trails provide the most popular and easily accessed mountain biking. You can access a variety of rolling single tracks that wind through the middle of the ski trails. There are cutoffs throughout the trail system that allow riders to choose short, medium, or long-distance rides. The Riverside Trail is accessible from the eastern edge of West Yellowstone at the corner of Boundary Street and Madison Avenue. The trail is a little more than a mile each way and is relatively flat. It is a great spot to take younger kids or to head to the picnic tables next to the Madison River for a unique lunch spot. There are a limited number of bike trails in Yellowstone National Park. For the more ambitious riders, there are plenty of longer, more challenging rides waiting for you outside of town. Tepee Creek to Red Canyon, Coffin Lake, Lion's Head and

Mile Creek are all rides located on US Forest Service land. West Yellowstone is also very close to stretches of the Continental Divide Trail. Although located in Idaho, you will find the Targhee Creek Trail and the Sawtelle Trail easily accessible from West Yellowstone.

The TransAmerica Trail, which goes right through West Yellowstone, is consistently used throughout the summer months. The start of our mountain biking season depends largely on how heavy our winter snowpack is come springtime. At lower elevations, it is often June before roads and trails dry out enough to make cycling possible. At higher elevations, we sometimes must wait until July before we can access the trails.

Road Cycling

Outside the Park, a 64-mile loop called “the block” is a popular ride. For those looking for a shorter ride, Highway 287 is the most scenic and safest section of the block. You can park your car at the intersection of Highway 191 and 287 and head out from there and travel along the north shore of Hebgen Lake.

ATV/OHV

The West Yellowstone area has a variety of trail experiences. Our OHV trail map mimics our Snowmobile Trail map and shows the trails both in Montana around West Yellowstone and Idaho around Island Park. The trail maps are available at several locations in West Yellowstone and Island Park including the Chambers/Visitor Centers and Forest Service offices.

Reminder: Off-highway vehicles operating on public land for recreational purposes must be registered and display a decal placed in a conspicuous location on the machine.

Hiking

The Custer-Gallatin National Forest and the Madison Range around West Yellowstone is a hiker's dream, offering an abundance of hiking and backpacking options on millions of acres of public land. Miles of trails wind past aspen and pine, tranquil meadows, and impressive peaks.

The Rendezvous Trail System is open to hikers and bikers in the summer. The Boundary Trail is used year-round. It can be accessed on the northeast end of town and follows along the Park Line. The Boundary Trail is also dog-friendly during the summer months. A local hiking favorite is the Coffin Lakes trail ending at a pair of high mountain lakes. Nearby Lee Metcalf Wilderness includes the Monument Mountain Unit which borders Yellowstone and is home to spectacular scenery and wildlife.

Yellowstone has over 1,100 miles of hiking trails fitting every type, difficulty, and length of trail imaginable. The Riverside Trail leaves right from West Yellowstone and follows a mellow trail along the river right into Yellowstone.

Top Hikes in Yellowstone

One of the best places for a day hike or backpacking adventure is Canyon Country. This area provides a stunning view of key Yellowstone features within four miles including the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone, thermal mud pots, and open meadows. The hike starts at Uncle Tom's Trailhead and takes you past the rim of the canyon, Artist's Point, and several lakes.

These hikes are only a sampling of what West Yellowstone and the Yellowstone Park area have to offer. For more options and information about these and other hikes, visit DestinationYellowstone.com.

What to Bring:

- Bear spray
- First Aid Kit
- Insect repellent & sunscreen

Frontier Trail

Yellowstone Shortline Trail

When Yellowstone National Park was established 150 years ago, many people knew little of the mysterious land, having heard only rumors of boiling waters spraying into the air and mud bubbling on Earth's surface.

In the early years, Yellowstone was difficult to explore, with no easy route providing a way and few accommodations. It did not take long for railroad companies to see an opportunity to market Yellowstone as a destination. Eager to profit, these companies built railroad lines to the park, developed luxurious accommodations, and promoted the wonders of the park through advertisements inspiring a sense of awe and adventure.

One such railroad was the Oregon Short Line Railroad, a subsidiary of Union Pacific, which built a branch line to what is now West Yellowstone, MT. Passenger service to the west entrance officially started on June 11th, 1908 and a community centered around the railroad was born. Over the next two decades, Union Pacific built several significant structures in the community, including the historic Depot and Dining Lodge.

Through 1960, countless passengers traveled to Yellowstone's west entrance by train. Following 1960, service declined and eventually ended in the late 1970s. The railroad property in town was deeded to the Town of West Yellowstone. Railroad property outside of town was returned to the forest service. The tracks were torn up leaving only a path along the forest floor.

Years later, the route of the railroad is still evident. For decades, people have dreamed of converting the path into a trail. In 2019, through a generous challenge grant and a partnership between Custer Gallatin National Forest and Yellowstone Historic Center, the project finally found the momentum needed to move full-steam ahead.

The project is made up of a team of locals who have joined together for the purpose of transforming the railroad bed into a world-class, hiking-biking trail which will be known as the Yellowstone Shortline Trail. The goal is to provide West Yellowstone's residents and visitors with an authentic way to experience the region's incredible natural environment while exploring the important history of the railroad through interpretive signs that create a rolling, strolling museum.

The future Yellowstone Shortline Trail will be 9-miles in length with a paved surface and will follow the historic route of the railroad from the depot in West Yellowstone to the Montana-Idaho border. The project plans to break ground in 2022.

A close-up photograph of a barbecue meal. Several ribs with a dark, charred exterior and tender, saucy interior are arranged diagonally across the frame. In the bottom left corner, there is a pile of thinly sliced red onions. To the right of the ribs, there are three slices of white bread, stacked slightly. The entire dish is served on a rustic wooden surface. A small white bowl containing a dark sauce is visible in the upper left corner. A red and white checkered paper liner is partially visible under the ribs. The text "For the Foodie" is overlaid in a white serif font in the center-right of the image.

Savory Specialties

Enjoy our regional specialties like trout, elk, and bison. Be sure to top it off with a Montana huckleberry treat! TRAVEL BACK IN TIME

Visiting the Museum of the Yellowstone is a must-see destination in 2022. This summer, the museum will take part in celebrating the 150th anniversary of Yellowstone National Park, a signature landmark for the world's first national park. Since being established in 1872, curious travelers have ventured from every corner of the world to experience "Wonderland."

Located in the historic Union Pacific Depot, the museum offers visitors an opportunity to immerse themselves in the rich history of Yellowstone National Park and the surrounding area. Featured exhibits include information about the 1871 Hayden Survey, early travel stories to the park, and one-of-a-kind historical objects, including a Mount Washburn Special stagecoach and a 1938 Model 706 Yellow bus the gear jammers drove through the park. Movies are shown daily, including films on the 1988 fires and the 1959 earthquake. In addition, staff members lead guided walking tours of the Oregon Short Line Historic District and the town of West Yellowstone throughout the summer.

The Museum of the Yellowstone is managed by the Yellowstone Historic Center, a local non-profit dedicated to preserving the history of Yellowstone National Park, West Yellowstone, and the surrounding area. For more information, including admission prices, hours, and program schedules, please visit www.museumoftheyellowstone.org or call 406-646-7461.

Know Before You Go

Packing for 6,666 feet

At high altitude, the sun is more intense, and the weather can change quickly. Pack an assortment of layered clothing, a jacket, footwear appropriate for the season and elements, sunscreen, sunglasses and a hat. If you plan to visit during the cooler months, include a fleece or flannel shirt, warm pants, winter coat, hat, gloves, scarf and snow boots. And most importantly pack a reusable water bottle, to make sure you stay hydrated!

Responsible Campfires

Please be fire aware and visit fs.usda.gov/detail/custergallatin for any fire restriction questions. During the dry summer months, fire restriction may be put into place to restrict campfires and other activities that could potentially cause a catastrophic wildfire. If there are no fire restrictions and you have a campfire, remember to put out all campfires responsibly! Douse, Stir, Douse, and Feel.

Livingston, Montana is your year-round home base on the Yellowstone River for epic:

Endless Recreation | Rustic & Refined Dining
Shopping & Lodging | Rich Culture & History | Legendary Nightlife

www.ExploreLivingstonMT.com

Choose your own adventure in the heart of Paradise.

Livingston, Montana is the historic gateway to Yellowstone National Park and your year-round home base for epic recreation and culture, rustic and refined dining, lodging and shopping.

STAY

Livingston is an historic train town revitalized by the arts and nestled on the Yellowstone River among four stunning mountain ranges. It's an ideal home base for trips to Yellowstone National Park, just 55 miles away through Paradise Valley, and conveniently located between Bozeman and Billings, Montana.

Historic downtown feels like an authentic old west movie set with brick storefronts and vintage neon signs but the shops, restaurants, bars and breweries are distinctive and vibrant. Livingston's lodging options are diverse, ranging from the historic Murray Hotel – Anthony Bourdain's pick for top ten hotels in the world – to luxury lodging, family budget options, and small Western themed motels.

We recommend booking a few extra days to enjoy Livingston's wonderland of endless recreation and rich culture and history.

PLAY

Livingston is the playground of cowboys and ranchers, movie stars and musicians, writers and artists alike. Visitors, locals, and legends are treated to the same casual, small-town friendliness.

Livingston has three museums with fly fishing, train and history exhibits, and dozens of local art galleries. Enjoy unique and boutique shopping with everything from handicrafts to records and books, handmade chocolate to gifts and toys, antiques to vintage fashion and western wear. Take a break to paint pottery with the kids, enjoy a spa treatment or yoga class. Livingston has free public transport, historic bus tours, a golf course, swimming pool, and playgrounds, trails and parks throughout town.

A foodie paradise, choose from farm-to-table restaurants and markets with vegan options, fine dining, ethnic foods and rustic steakhouses. You can find sushi and seafood, gourmet wine shops and a regional beer store, vintage burger joints, traditional cafés, European style bakeries, and plenty of coffee shops, bars and even two breweries.

Seasonal events appeal to every taste with rodeos, theatre, live music, author readings, art walks and farmer's markets as well as film, music, and brew festivals. Like the Jimmy Buffett song "Livingston Saturday Night" you'll be rockin' and rollin' whatever adventure you choose.

SEIZE THE DAY

Go beyond Yellowstone to access wild and scenic places off the beaten path year-round including eight state parks, fourteen fishing access sites, several dozen trailheads, and Bridger Bowl ski resort; all under an hour drive from Livingston. Rent bikes, snowshoes, cross country skis, kayaks, rafts, and stand-up paddle boards. Book guides for fly fishing, white water rafting, horseback riding, dog sledding, and hunting in season.

Take advantage of hundreds of miles of trails with hiking for all skill levels, rock climbing, mountain biking, cross country and backcountry skiing. Bring your camera to capture the abundant wildlife and breathtaking vistas and we can recommend great picnic spots and suppliers for your adventures.

Enjoy the legendary big sky at night with stories around a campfire, star gazing, boogieing to live music, and a Montana must – soaking in hot springs. Come experience epic in Livingston!

Yellowstone Bear World offers up-close wildlife encounters—and the chance to bottle-feed bear cubs

Courtney Ferguson views Yellowstone Bear World as his family serving families. After all, his family has owned and operated the wildlife attraction since it opened in 1998.

“We’re a drive-through wildlife park offering families encounters with majestic animals that can sometimes be hard to spot in Yellowstone, including bears, wolves, elk, moose, and bison,” Ferguson says, of the 120-acre wildlife park. “Folks can also bottle-feed bear cubs for a memory that will last a lifetime!”

In addition to self-guided drive-through tours, Yellowstone Bear World offers guided tours in an open-air vehicle that offer birds-eye views of North American wildlife, a petting zoo, and an amusement park that includes train rides and a rollercoaster. And with all-day access, families can drive through time and again.

“On the guided tours, we talk about the personalities and traits of each animal in the park, and, of course, the fascinating hibernation cycles of the bears,” Ferguson says. “It’s also a great photo opportunity because the animals come right up to our guided-tour vehicle where visitors can feed them.”

“We opened the park because of my father’s experiences as a child,” Ferguson says. “His family would take trips to Yellowstone, and be fascinated by all the animals and the ‘bear jams’ that would clog the road for hours. We wanted to recreate that childhood experience here.”

Yellowstone Bear World is located near Rexburg, Idaho, along the southwestern edge of the Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone Bear World is open seven days a week from Memorial Day Weekend through mid-October. Weekend-only access begins April 16.

Camping

Visitors to West Yellowstone and Yellowstone National Park that want to camp have a wide choice of options from basic backcountry sites to developed national forest campsites to full amenities at private campgrounds.

Public campgrounds outside of West Yellowstone are open from mid-May through September, weather dependent.

RV campgrounds can be as small as a few dozen sites to booming resorts with hundreds of sites, catering to RVs of every type and size. Some RVers prefer the simple solitude of campgrounds that provide merely the basics of electricity and fresh water at the site. Others prefer full-service options with electricity, water and sewer hookups for each RV. Electronically dependent travelers appreciate the Wi-Fi service provided at many campgrounds.

No matter whether you're a family looking for an action-packed trip, a couple seeking relaxation and pampering or somewhere in between, there's an RV site waiting for you. Here are some tips to make your camping trip extra special:

- Roast graham crackers, marshmallows, and chocolate to build a delicious s'more!
- Wake up to see the sunrise at least once.
- Wear insect repellent to save your skin.
- Clean up your food and gear to keep our wildlife safe.

For a list of campgrounds and RV parks in or near West Yellowstone, visit DestinationYellowstone.com, or check out the directory on page 74.
